GRIM: THE STORY OF A PIKE

SVEND FLEURON

LibriVox

Grim: The Story of a Pike
By Svend Fleuron (1874 - 1966)
Translated by J. Muir and J. Alexander

A book about a fish? Well, yes, but not just a fish, a pike. Those big, tough, sleek, fish that, at 25+ kilograms, an angler dreams of catching. And this book describes one of these: a girl pike named Grim. "To devour others and to avoid being devoured oneself, that is life's end and aim." This is the fascinating and exciting story of a girl pike named Grim from her early life as an innocent fish to the wily and wise Pike she ultimately becomes. But many are the perils and dangers she must avoid to get there. (Summary by Phil Chenevert)

01 - Life — 00:11:47 - Read by Alfian ◼ 02 - In the Shelter of the Creek — 00:13:38 - Read by Alfian ◼ 03 - Grim Goes Exploring — 00:15:42 - Read by Alfian ◼ 04 - The Marauders — 00:15:57 - Read by Lily Took ◼ 05 - The Pearly Fish — 00:22:06 - Read by Lily Took ◼ 06 - The Man-Roach — 00:20:05 - Read by David Olson ◼ 07 - The Rasper — 00:13:32 - Read by Goss45 ◼ 08 - The Angler's End — 00:09:32 - Read by Goss45 ◼ 09 - The Wedding Festival — 00:09:38 - Read by Pamela Krantz ◼ 10 - In the Marsh — 00:20:28 - Read by Lily Took ◼ 11 - Terror — 00:07:48 - Read by Lily Took ◼ 12 - Grim Develops — 00:17:57 - Read by Lily Took ◼ 13 - A Fight with an Otter — 00:14:28 - Read by Lily Took ◼ 14 - The Angler from Town — 00:09:02 - Read by Corey Barker ◼ 15 - LUCK — 00:15:52 - Read by Bill Mosley

Total running time: 3:37:32. Dedicated Proof-Listener: Chessie Joy. Meta-Coordinator, Book Coordinator, &Cataloging: Phil Chenevert.